The Company insures on equitable terms, and at a fixed premium, every description of property. The Company is solely and exclusively responsible for losses occasioned by fire which may be suffered by insured parties.

The Insurance may be effected for periods ranging from one month to ten years. The total premium is payable in advance, in cases where the Insurance is effected for a term of one year or less; and annually where the term exceeds one year. In terms of from 5 to 10 years, payment in advance of 5 years premium, entitles the Insured to the reimbursement of one year's premium: or in other words the Company will only charge the premium corresponding to four years.

Payment in advance of ten year's premium entitles the Insured to the reimbursement of two year's premium; with a further abatement of 10 p: cent: on the premium corresponding to the term of eight years: that is he will only be charged with the amount of eight year's premiums—less 10 p. cent.

The Company furnishes guarantees of the highest character, from the fact of there being no other Fire Insurance Company, at a fixed premium, having its head residence in the Argentine Republic; and also from the circumstance of its large capital.

The Company's funds are deposited in the Provincial Bank.

Further particulars will be furnished on application at the Company's Offices. 93 xp n16

GREAT NEWS FOR FARMERS.

ADVENT OF THE STEAM PLOUGH IN SOUTH AMERICA.

The fact which we concisely announced yesterday of the arrival in the Hipparchus of a steam-plough, brought out by Mr. Melrose, a Scotch settler in the new colony of Frayle Muerto, is one pregnant with consequences of so important a magnitude to the future prosperity of these countries, that it justly deserves a more than passing notice at the hands of the public press.

Our readers are aware that when the project for building the Central Argentine Railway, was started, which was to begin by connecting the capital of the fertile Province of Cordoba with Rosario, a great number of Englishmen bought land in the vicinity of Frayle Muerto, and a new settlement of our countrymen sprung up there with a view of devoting their energies to sheep and cattle farming. A series of adverse circumstances, the principal among which were the reduction in prices of produce, and the oft-recurring Indian invasions, brought about a great change, and whilst many of the new settlers abandoned their new home, not a few determined to stop and confine themselves exclusively to agricultural pursuits, for which the fertility of that virgin soil, the excellence of the climate, and the abundance of wood, promised them the finest possible prospects.

Among the latter Mr. Melrose was one of the first to enter with spirit and energy into the new line of operations. With the experienced eye of a practical man he soon detected that the principal drawback to a successful carrying out of his new plan was the scarcity and cost of labor; but he quietly set his shoulder to the wheel and at once proceeded to England either to bring out emigrants or to supply their place by the agency of steam. After a deliberate investigation and a careful study of the various systems of steam cultivation, all of which he examined and saw in operation, he decided in favor of Fowler's patent steam plough, and with the quiet determination peculiar to the Anglo-Saxon race, he lost no time in carrying into effect his views, and the consequence is, that in little more than six months he has returned to the River Plate with his steam ploughs, and all the required accessories, which will in the course of a fortnight be turning up the sods of the virgin pampa, in the neighborhood of Frayle Muerto, and the harbinger of peace, plenty, and prosperity to these favored regions.

Mr. Melrose's plough is worked by two engines, of 14 horse-power each. A chain, winding and unwinding respectively, from windlasses worked by them, drives the plough, which has ten shares and twelve feet furrows. The utmost distance the chain can embrace is 600 feet, although it is not advisable to stretch it to its full extent. When the plough has been driven over the space that divides the two engines, they are moved a little further up or down, and the plough is set agoing again. It only requires one man at each of the engines, and another to guide the plough, and Mr. Melrose calculates that he can easily till 30 acres of land per day, about seven squares square. The cost is £1,200, including, however, a great number of accessories, which are in no way essential to its proper working. Each of the engines is a locomotive, and can draw on any ordinary load a weight of 50 tons, so that they must throughout the year be very powerful auxiliaries in all farming operations.

Mr. Melrose has also brought out with him a new threshing machine that can be worked by steam engine, the novelty of which consists in doing away with the necessity of mowing, as it catches the corn from the ear, and delivers it up in a clean state, leaving the stalks standing in the field, which can afterwards be set fire to.

The enormous difficulties, both in trouble and expense, which attend the disembarkation or embarkation of goods in this port, have debarred Mr. Melrose from the possibility of landing his steam-plough in Buenos Ayres, and showing, as he would have had great pleasure in doing, its practical working, before taking it up to Rosario. But the whole thing weighs about 40 tons, and it could not be disembarked or re-embarked for less than 500 patacons.

The Pollux has been chartered by Mr. Melrose to go alongside the Hipparchus, and take his machinery and a number of workmen that he has brought out to Rosario, and thence by railway he will proceed to Frayle Muerto. Once there he will be most happy to show his steam-plough at work to any one who should feel interested in the matter.

Mr. Melrose has been appointed agent by Messrs. Fowler and Co., of Leeds, for the sale of their machinery, &c., in this part of the world, and we owe to his polite attention a copy of a pamphlet, with a catalogue descriptive of the steam ploughs and other machinery manufactured by that firm, which we keep on view at our office for those of our readers, who may feel induced to follow in Mr. Melrose's footsteps.

For our part, we cannot close these brief remarks without sincerely congratulating this gentleman on his enterprising energy, and hope that while the most complete success may crown his bold experiment, his name may be ranked among the real benefactors of the River Plate, as the author of an innovation that opens up a long vista of incalculable prosperity.

THE SALADERO QUESTION.

In the "Tribuna" of Tuesday we find the "last words" of the king of the saladeristas; he makes no "dying confession," but sticks out for the views he has always so ably maintained and is as obstinate as ever in preferring the results derived from practice and experience to the lingo of the profession. He, like every one who understands this question, knows that the present so called solution is a simple farce, worse if possible than the disinfections and filtrations of last April, the admirable result of which was nearly to poison the Governor and to send the Minister of Hacienda to his bed for two days, in consequence of their self-devotion in assisting at the ungodly operations. The Minister of Government, we perceive, was the one to attend at the present little game, assisted by his medical attendant, and we are happy to find that he has survived without apparent injury to his constitution.

Our readers well remember the howl of the Board of Health and of small panacea mongers in general against the frightful effects of corrupting the waters of the Riachuelo. Do they know with how small a bone the learned body has been satisfied? It is simply the stipulation, to be carried out as a Draconian code by our friend Botet, that the saladeristas are to paint with tar the wooden shoots through which the damnable mixtures flow to the still to be defiled waters. This, with a little make-believe about burning refuse and flirting with dung, is to carry us over till November, after which month—the millenium—saladeristas are to have ready every provision for that cleanliness which is next to godliness, estancieros are to bring their cattle to the new model establishments, the Riachuelo is to be crowded with the launches, originally intended for carrying the agua de cola to perfume the outer roads, but now to be loaded with the last new patent guano of Puiggari and Catelin with honorable mention from Messrs. Montes de Oca and Co.

To speak seriously, is it not melancholy that after years of discussion such a subject, affecting the most important interests and the only manufacture of the country, should be in such a position? Has not A. C. a right to say, that the cause of all this vacillation is the preconceived idea of a certain number of theorists, that the saladeristas must be driven from Barracas, and, to use the words of the commissioner, must be decentralised. We have before shown, and we insist on the point, that such a view is unpractical and unstatesmanlike. The wealth of the country is in cattle. The only manufacture, that of turning their produce to the best account, and that can best be done by concentrating the business round the most convenient centre, where the interests of the producer, the manufacturer, and the exporter are best consulted. That centre years of experience have shown to be the banks of the Riachuelo.

The estanciero brings in his troop, the finest he sells to the butcher, and for the remainder he has at once the competition of 10 or 11 slaughtering establishments, and thus can ensure the true commercial value of his stock. The saladerista finds his account in this very competition, and the large number of animals collected, from which he can supply his exact wants, in the facilities for embarkation, in the vicinity of his purchasers, and of a market, where he can if he likes sell a hundred hides or buy ten fanegas of salt, and where he is not required to invest an enormous capital, as he must do in an insolated position, where he can deal only by the cargo. Our practical estancieros could tell the Government that, in the new industry of sheep boiling, they find it more advantageous to send their animals to Barracas than to the new fitted capon saladeros six leagues off.

We could point out many other difficulties which would very naturally attend the removal of the saladeros—some avowed, such as the effect of the disturbance of so large an amount of invested capital, and the destruction of the flourishing town of Barracas, with all its trades, subsidiary to and dependent on the saladeros—some not avowed, but well understood, which A. C. qualifies as "esenciales," depending on political questions, invasions, sieges, &c., which have gone out of fashion, fortunately, at this side of the water, but have not been entirely unknown even to our "culta capital."

At the same time that we boldly avow our sympathies with the saladeristas, and our desire that they may not be driven from the best position for exercising their useful trade, we candidly admit that we object to being poisoned by them, and that we should prefer to have our tea-kettle free from 'agua de Cola,' and would gladly see the Riachuelo restored to its pristine limpidity. The question is—How is it to be done? Our scientific commission, which has been in a state of procrastinous labour for a number of months, has produced its mouse—a report free in assertion, deficient in proofs, and serving punctually to recal to us the axiom that 'a little learning is a dangerous thing.' The professors come out strong on the politico-economical dodge (if they will excuse the very—what shall we call it?—uncommissionary language), and say, "Let the saladerisistas work, but on condition that they consume their own dirt—no matter how, but, in preference, boil it." As regards facts, they twist them a little to suit their own views. Mr. Coghlan's land to be irrigated—lately represented as a Pontine marsh, is now discovered to be a fertile Eden—to be preserved from such foul substances liquid manure, which would incontinently Ponti-marshify it; his distances are misstated (for instance, the "Pescadores" is stated at three miles from Buenos Ayres, instead of from the Boca); his estimates are set aside in an oracular style, without any data given for the new ones. In fact, all the figures—even metaphorical—not excepting the famous Pontine marshes—seem borrowed from the letters of Mr. Puiggari, whose evaporation of agua de cola is described as a magnificent success, worthy of a premium from Government, without a figure, even metaphorical, to give us an idea of the cost or scale of working.

Our scientific friends seem never before to have been aware of the fact that broth may be converted into jelly, if you only boil it long enough. That any cook could have told them; but the question is—What has your jelly cost, and what is it worth?

It is beautiful in theory to reflect that we have given a new product to the country—that is, we have saved this very nasty mixture from the fishes—in fact, we save the fishes: for there can be no doubt it poisons them. But, again to subside into vulgarity—How about the dibs? or, more elegantly—"Lo jeu vaut il la chandelle?"

Our own opinion, based on practical facts, and supported by all the saladeristas—except the celebrated Lopez, the pet of the Scientific Commission who sold the pass—and the Government, we have already frequently expressed. The liquids from the saladeros cannot be converted to any useful purpose, the solid waste the saladeristas undertake to provide for. The only rational plan for getting rid of the liquids is that of Mr. Coghlan. Even the scientific commission does not take up the scheme of the lighters to load sewage at the saladeros and waste their sweetness at the guardship. Then how should that plan be carried out? The commissioners say that that is not a question for the Government, and here we join issue. In old communities, with established police and sanitary laws, the prevention of the defilement of streams by sewage or waste from manufactories has, until within the last few years, been little attended to; but now that its necessity is recognised, no individual exertion is enforced, but practical general measures are devised and carried out by municipal or other agency, the cost being made to fall, by means of taxes, on those for whose use the nuisance existed. Ours is a parallel case. The saladeristas are willing to pay for the improvements necessary for the purifying of their establishments, and they only ask to have a means of action sanctioned for them. This is a practical question, to be dealt with in a practical way. South Barracas consists of saladeros and establishments dependent on them. It is as idle to say that each saladerista is to get rid of his offal independently as to call on every householder to provide a system of town drainage for his own privy. The saladeristas will pay any impost that is right for any scheme which they know to be effective; but they and we all know that it is mere childish theory, springing from that dangerous knowledge we have referred to, to suppose that such a scheme can be carried out otherwise than by a central power, such as a municipality (from which, good Lord, deliver us), or by the Provincial Government, in which we have faith.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The foreign community who naturally look into the native papers for local information, are beginning to wonder how long the eternal Elizalde question is to render the columns of the leading journals the "Tribuna" and "Nacion," positively offensive. Their articles on that subject have neither the wit of good pasquinades, nor the flavour of genuine satire, but are simply acrimonious, and dolefully, stupidly personal. Dr. Gutierrez in the "Nacion" has written two essays on Sarmiento. The second, like most afterclaps, was a failure; but the first which appeared some time ago, was a masterpiece of satirical personal criticism; and even if not in all respects just, the warmest friends of Sarmiento must have acknowledged its merits. If the journals would confine themselves to that style we should be all edified by the paper strife. But as it is, the names of Elizalde, Alsina, and Sarmiento are to the unitiated so many coloured rags, banners without mottoes or insignia. We should be greatly indebted to the "Nacion" and "Tribuna" if they would seriously explain to us the political meaning of their electioneering colours. For the present if we want local news we turn to the "Nacional;" if we want serious political articles we consult the columns of the "Republica." We think Dr. Elizalde himself might interfere to prevent his highly respected name from being rendered a nuisance and to restore the talent of the leading journals to its legitimate province.

The news from Montevevideo is still favorable. The post of Minister of Finance has not yet been filled up. In all probability it will fall into the hands of Señor Villalba. D. Esequiel Perez seems not inclined to accept.

Mr. Hector Varela, who has lately been the hero of a public midnight demonstration, purposes to remain a few days in Montevideo, as his friends have proposed in his honor a grand banquet in the Hotel Americano.

The Montevideo Government is thinking of establishing in the capital a central police office for the whole country under a superintendent general.

The heat which had returned within the last few days and had reached to an oppressive degree on Wednesday, was succeeded by a fresh and delightful day yesterday, thanks to the copious rain that fell in the night of Wednesday and Thursday during the severe thunder storm that began an hour after midnight.

The Club Libertad held its adjourned meeting on Tuesday evening. The sitting was very animated and the large hall of the cancha in Calle Belgrano crowded to overflowing. The object of the meeting was to proclaim the candidates that the club would support at the approaching election of six members to Congress for the province of Buenos Ayres.

The former list of the club had suffered a vacancy by the death of one of Buenos Ayres most promising young men, José M. Romero, who fell a victim to cholera in Rosario, and the question mooted was whether the whole list should be remodelled or only the one vacancy filled up. The latter opinion obtained the majority and our distinguished friend D. Manuel Argerich, who has lately on several occasions displayed oratorical powers of a superior class, was the one upon which the choice fell. He was in consequence the object of a popular ovation, a large number of the members of the club having proceeded to his house on the breaking up of the meeting to congratulate him. Enthusiastic cheers were given to him, for which he thanked his friends in a few but elequent words. And the assemblage then dispersed peacefully about eleven at night.

The Directors of the Western Railway have announced that from the 8th inst. the trains leaving Plaza Parque Station will be reduced to four—at 7 and 10 a.m., and at 2 and 5 p.m. The Tribuna very justly makes some stringent remarks upon a resolution which seems to have no other object save that of placing difficulties in the way of the passenger traffic on that line, and while we emphatically endorse the opinion of our worthy colleague, we call upon Governor Alsina to interpose his influence in behalf of the interests of the public thus wantonly disregarded.

Our friend Don Juan Czetz, who has just come back after a residence of a few days in Villa Mercedes, where he had been summoned by his professional duties as land surveyor, gives us a terrible account of the damage caused by the late hurricane in that neighbourhood. At the estancia of Sor Cardoso a galpon of fifty varas wide by one hundred in length was bodily carried away, causing innumerable deaths among the sheep and blood rams. The camps are however assuming a most cheerful aspect, to the no small satisfaction of the Standard's camp subscribers in that neighbourhood. On Sunday last a grand Te Deum was sung in the principal church which was numerously attended, but it was melancholy to remark that among the large concourse of the fair sex, which crowded the nave of the edifice, scarcely five could be counted dressed in colored clothes, the rest showing by the deep mourning how busy the hand of death has been in that populous country town.

D. Ramon, Maldonado, has made a proposal to the Belgrano Municipality for the construction of the new road from the Obligado-bridge to Belgrano. In consequence of this that Municipality has addressed itself to the Provincial Government to obtain its sanction, and requesting that the Topographical Department should appoint an 'agrimensor' to trace out the new road. We venture to say that Sr. Salas, the able President of that Department, could not make a better selection than by entrusting this work to our friend, Dn. Juan Czetz, who has by his talents and assiduity raised himself to a high position in his profession of a Land Surveyor and Civil Engineer.

We are glad to see a new Lyric Company has been definitely organised under the management of Sor. Lablache, to perform in Colon Theatre during the months of March, April, and May. A varied 'repertoire' of the newest and best operas is promised to us, and among them Meyerbeer's last composition, "L'Africaine,' which has never yet been given in Buenos Ayres:—The following list of 'artistes,' reinforced by a very respectable 'ballet corps,' lead us to anticipate that the approaching Opera season will be a brilliant one:—Prima Donnas—Mmes. B. Lablache, C. Perini, Felicita Torlovesi. Tenors—Messrs. L. Lelmi, M. Pozzolini, V. Antinori. Baritones—Messrs. A. Celestino, J. Bergamaschi. Basses—Messrs. M. Scarabelli, M. Poli. Second Tenor—M. Giustineli, Corps de Ballet—Director—Sr. J. Soldaini. Ballet Girls—Mlles. C. Giunti, Rosa and Pepita Buñol, Adalgisa. Soldaini, Mariette Buñol. Male Dancers—Messrs. P. Soldaini and S. Bertos.

The Albion, of the Tait line of steamers running between Antwerp and the River Plate, will leave this on Sunday next for Antwerp, touching at Montevideo, Rio Janeiro and Falmouth. A mail for these points will be made up at the Post-office on the above day, closing at the central office at 2, and at the Capt. of the Port's Branch office at 3 p.m.

We were favoured the other day with a sample of Martell dark brandy which M. Turmeau, of 77 Calle Piedad, has now on sale, after keeping it for eight years in bond. It has a luscious and rich flavour, but is rather too powerful, and apt, if indulged in too freely, to make the editorial quill wander. For our part, we confess to a weakness for mild gin and water, particularly of that excellent and incomparable brand imported by our neighbours, Messrs. Paats & Co. It is undoubtedly a most healthy and refreshing beverage, and its general adaptation, even in fashionable circles, shows, at all events, that we are not singlar in our taste.

The Tycho Brahe, sister ship to the Hipparchus, is hourly expected in Montevideo with dates from Liverpool to 6th February.

The telegraphic wires between this port and Montevideo were yesterday working badly, it was supposed on account of the electric state of the atmosphere; but the true reason we believe was that at a certain point the wires were undergoing repair.

The meeting of subscribers to the British Hospital, is convened for to-day at half-past eleven o'clock at the British Consulate. We take this opportunity to recommend the attendance of all those who feel interest in this valuable institution, which it is the bounden duty of our British community to support liberally.

Our readers will be glad to hear that Mrs. Buckley Mathew is now convalescent in Montevideo.

Mrs. Gonzalez Moreno, another well-known passenger by the Arno, who left this in a very delicate state of health, was also much stronger when she left Montevideo for Rio.

We give to-day the conclusion of Consul Hutchinson's yearly report to Parliament of the general trade of Rosario, as presented to Parliament, which, though rather a dry subject, contains some very valuable information.

A steamer came in from Corrientes yesterday, but brought no later news from the seat of war.

GOOD NEWS FROM THE CAMP.

Saladillo, March 2nd.

The disappearance of the cholera and the last rain have made a great change for the better about here. The gloom that was hanging over everybody is gradually disappearing, and people are beginning to look after their so long neglected affairs. Wool-buyers, butchers, and hawkers are to be seen everywhere; and many who before the epidemic broke out lived in great misery have by the death of relatives come into property that they never dreamt of. But such is life. To give an accurate statement of the deaths through cholera in this partido would be next to an impossibility; but that the mortality here has been far greater in proportion than in B. Ayres there can be no doubt. The natives very justly remark, "Que los mas han muerto de necesidad," which certainly cannot be denied, as in many cases at the approach of the plague the whole family fled, leaving to their fate those that had been taken sick. Houses are to be found here to this day with dead bodies in them.

The camps all through the drought, owing to the many different pastures abounding here, have been well able to sustain the stock on them, so that cattle and sheep are in splendid condition, and the late rains have made the camps tenfold better.

But with all these fine prospects of a good season sheep farmers are rather down-hearted, as it is impossible with the produce to defray the expenses of the year. Debts must be paid,—but how? Only by selling sheep at whatever can be got for them. Thousands have been sold here from 7 to 10 dollars each, and at the last price plenty are to be had yet.

A great deal of wheat has been lost for want of hands to cut it. The maize, on the other hand, with the last rain has improved wonderfully, and there is every prospect of a good yield.

ODDFELLOWSHIP.

The fifth anniversary of the Loyal Flor del Plata Lodge of Oddfellows, M.U., was celebrated on the evening of Tuesday, 3rd March, in the Lodge Room, No. 96 Calle Independencia—P.G.M. Downing in the chair, Secretary Powell acting as croupier. The attendance of brothers and friends was good. The get up of the supper table was splendid, and the room was tastefully decorated with flags, giving to the whole an appearance of gaiety and pleasure seldom met with in these countries.

After the company had partaken of the good things which the table groaned under, the Chairman called upon the Secretary to read the report of the past year, which was as follows:—

Fifth Annual Report of the Flor del Plata Lodge of Oddfellows, M.U.

Since we last met to commemorate the natal day of our Society another year has passed, and to-night we meet to celebrate our fifth anniversary, It devolves upon me, as your Secretary, to present to you a faithful report of the year just closed; and it is with pleasure that I inform you that it continues to be favorable, and everything included, we may consider it as perfectly satisfactory.

At the end of last year there were 67 members on the roll, and although we cannot boast of an increase in our number, we certainly have not to mourn over a heavy dimunition, as we now count 62. It must also be borne that although we are 5 short of our previous number, it can be easily accounted for by brothers leaving for other parts, and by our having to lament the loss of four of our number who have been suddenly snatched from us by the ruthless hand of death, and who we hope have passed to a better world, "where the weary are at rest."

It is cheering to notice that in many cases where members have left the country, their connection with the Lodge has not ceased, and their interest in our welfare not diminished in any degree. To prove that such is the case we need only mention the following pleasing circumstance: One of our brothers having left to follow his profession in the United States found on his arrival in New York a home and brothers in the Washington Lodge. During his residence there he continued faithful in his adherence to us, and after having again changed places and fortunes, he once more found friends and brothers in Chicago, who, during a tedious illness, tended and cared for him, obtained for him a medical adviser, paid his bill, and I may add proved to him that Oddfellowship is not an empty name, but a magic word that will meet with a hearty response in every part of our habitable globe, and call forth an echo from pole to pole.

Our financial affairs continue steadily improving, and from time to time we have been enabled to add to the balance to our credit at the Bank. We opened the year with a balance of $31,660 to the credit of the sick fund; and, notwithstanding many heavy payments from said fund, we are glad to be able to report that the amount in the bank is $36,000, exclusive of a balance in the hands of the treasurer to meet accounts already passed by the lodge. A considerable diminution has been made in the management fund, for the purchase of some useful and necessary articles which we hope shortly to see adorn our new lodge-room; nevertheless there is a sufficient balance in hand to meet all probable expenses. We have recently received from home sashes for the officers, as also some books, and hope in the course of time we shall be enabled to send for everything necessary for the lodge, so that we may complete the full emblems of the order.

We have still a pleasing duty to perform in returning thanks to those friends who have kindly extended a helping hand to us during the past year as formerly, viz., our zealous treasurer, Brother Kitching; also the worthy editors of the 'Standard,' who have always with the greatest kindness inserted our notices and advertisements free of charge; neither must we forget that our best thanks are due to Dr. Conyngham, for his prompt attendance on those brothers who have needed his skilful advice.

We now close this report by hoping that Oddfellowship may long flourish, and become the means of spreading those principles of benevolence it professes, and which are summed up in our never-to-be-forgotten motto—"Friendsip, Love, and Truth."

A. POWELL.

On the conclusion of the Secretary's report, the hilarity of the evening commenced, in the shape of toasts, speeches, and songs.

The Chairman, in proposing the first toast—"The Loyal Flor del Plata Lodge of Oddfellows"—gave a lucid account of the progress of the Lodge since its starting in Buenos Ayres. "It commenced," he said, "four years ago with only six members, and now it numbered sixty-two, with, in its sick fund alone, over $36,000 in one of the banks in the city."

"The Directors of the Manchester Unity of Oddfellows," proposed by Brother Jacobs, was drunk with flowing bumpers.

The Treasurer, Brother Kitching, in giving the toast "The Land we live in," touched a chord that reverberated around the room. He showed to each and all that Oddfellowship was not merely a society, but a home, and hinted that before long it would pass the bounds of the English into the Spanish language. He had been repeatedly asked by Spanish gentlemen for a copy of the Order's bye-laws and regulations, and that too by some of the men that now occupied the head chairs of state in this country; in every case a good impression being carried away.

"The Queen and Royal Family," proposed by Brother Brown, was drunk with three times three.

"The Ladies," proposed by the Secretary, Brother Powell, acknowledged by Brother M'Crindle, who, in his usual racy way, thanked the brothers and friends for the honour done to him by his being called upon to respond on behalf of the fair sex.

"Our Absent Brothers," by Treasurer Kitching, who explained the reason of the absence of some of the brothers, a few having removed to different parts of the country, and some being unable to attend through sickness.

"Our Past Officers," by Brother M. Powell, responded to by P.G.M. Daws.

"The United States of America and its President," by Brother Sords; drunk with all honour.

"The Standard, and the Messrs. Mulhall," by Secretary Powell, responded to by V.G. Anderson.

"Our Host and Hostess," by the Chairman, responded to by Secretary Powell.

"The Chairman," by Brother Lunt, responded to by the Chairman.

"The Treasurer," by Brother Brown, responded to by the Treasurer.

"Our Friends Present," by V.G. Anderson, responded to by Mr. Martin.

Between each of the toasts a song was given by some one of the brothers.

The meeting broke up at a seasonable hour, the general expression being that each anniversary was drawing all nearer to each other.

DR. LOPEZ'S PAMPHLET.

We observe that Don Nicolas Oroño, the late Governor of Santa Fé, has published a collection of all the pamphlets and articles which have been written on the Civil Marriage question. Copies of the collection are distributed gratis. One of the most noted champions of this social reform, Don José F. Lopez, has favored us with a copy of his pamphlet, "Defensa del Gobierno de Santa-Fé." Dr. Lopez traces the history of the marriage ceremony from the earliest times. He recals to our recollection that both with the Greeks and Romans the religious ceremony in the marriage rite was preceded by civil forms. When the heathen faith was superseded by Christianity, the old customs were adhered to.

In the Roman jurisprudence adopted by the Christian nations, there is no mention of religious ceremony in marriage forms. The question was not mooted until about the period of the Council of Trent, when there was a momentary strife for precedence, or at least equality, between the canon and civil law. Throughout Europe, the civil law has maintained its ascendancy, except in matters strictly pertaining to the internal interests and government of the Church. Dr. Lopez expresses a hope that Señor Trelles, who is in charge of the public archives in Buenos Ayres, will be able to disinter the document published by the Council of Trent, in which the double functions of civil and religious power were claimed by the Church.

Dr. Lopez throughout his pamphlet is the earnest advocate of the rights of the civil authorities, against the encroachments of any 'imperium in imperio,' be what it may. But with the same ardour with which he defends the rights of the Government of Santa Fe, he would no doubt cause to be respected the decisions of the Bishop of Parana in all questions of church doctrine. If the Bishop of Parana is pleased to say that marriage unsolemnized by religious rites is no better than concubinage, all the learning of Dr. Lopez, or of the encyclopedists, would be futile against those whose religious belief is not influenced by what the Greeks or the Romans did, or what the Chinese or Japanese may do, but by what their pastor and their church rule.

The present value of the question in this country, as Dr. Lopez has pointed out himself in other works, refers to the removal of all difficulties in the marriage of people of different persuasions, and in remote districts; and by so doing to prevent the very evil which the Bishop of Paraná attributes to the validity of the civil contract. The common sense of the Catholic population of this heterogeneously inhabited republic will we are convinced, see sooner or later that civil marriage is intended as a necessary social reform acknowledged and adopted by the whole civilized world, and not insidiously advanced as a religious innovation. Were it our opinion that it was not so, we would not even allude to the subject. Neither good catholics, jews nor protestants consider themselves firm in the bonds, holy bonds as they are rightly called, of matrimony without the intervention of the church.

Against this strong religious sentiment natural to mankind, the civil contract as law of the land will be harmless, and only a convenience for special emergencies. Viewing the subject in this light we have no objection to give currency to Dr. Lopez's opinions, as we are satisfied there are sufficiently redoubtable champions on the other side who will correct his history and doctrines.

ARGENTINE REPUBLIC.

CONSUL HUTCHINSON'S REPORT.

[Conclusion.]

From Mr. A. Lea, one of the officials of the Centro-Argentine Railway, now in progress of construction from Rosario to Cordova, I have received the following statements:—

"The arrivals and departures of carts and mules from and to the interior for the first six months of the present year, 1867, are—

Arrivals.

1,774 carts carrying 4,436 tons
764 mules " 152 tons

Departures.

1,261 carts carriying 3,152 tons.

To this must be added the traffic conveyed over the Centro-Argentine Railway during the corresponding period. Tonnage conveyed in and out of Rosario, to and from Frayle Muerto for the six months ending 30th June, 1867:—

Tonnage out..... 1,805 tons
Tonnage in..... 1,919 "

Total 3,724

being an aggregate of 11,464 tons durring the half-year—a quantity which should be reckoned as tripled or quadrupled of actually existing traffic in times of peace, and which shows good prospects for the Centro-Argentine Railway. The existence of foreign (Paraguayan) jointly with civil war has during the period in question very much crippled the trade.

The chief progress made in the province of Santa Fé (in which Rosario is situated) during the past year has been effected by the large number of Englishmen who have bought land land for sheep-farming purposes. The liberality of land laws, and cheap prices, under the excellent administration of the Governor, his Excellency Don Nicasio Oroño, were the principal inducing influences for these investments.

By the "Registro Estadistico de la Republica Argentina for 1864" [the number for 1865 is not yet published], compiled by Damian Hudson, it appears that 40,336 fanegas (4 bushels to a fanega) of wheat were exported from Rosario in that year. It is supposed that the wheat ground in the province is double the quantity of that which is exported.

A new trade has sprung up in Rosario by the Paraguayan war, as during the last eight months from date of this Report more than 40,000 bales, or above 5,000 tons, of dried alfalfa (or South American clover), have been sent to the seat of war for the officers of the allied troops.

There are few matters bearing on England's commercial relations with the Argentine Republic that are likely to be of more interest hereafter than the meat question. To Mr. Ford's [our late Charge d'Affaires at Buenos Ayres] report on the meat establishments he visited, at Paysandu (Morgan's new process for the preservation of meat for food), at Fray Bentos (Baron Liebig's extractum carnis), Paris and Sloper's fresh-meat-keeping process, Olinden's dried beef—little can be added by me. Since his visit I have been at all the places described by Mr. Ford, and can supplement nothing to his graphic account. He however, has not mentioned one establishment visited by me—namely that of Messrs. Anderson & Parkes, at Buenos Ayres, and which is likely to surpass in efficiency all the others. Not only is extractum carnis made here equal to that of Liebig's at Fray Bentos, but the salt beef and cow's tongues that are cured at this factory would do credit to Newgate or Leadenhall Market. Moreover, Mr. Parkes, the manager, who has made this suject the study of his lifetime, is introducing a plan for the utilisation of blood, and other hitherto waste matters of the Saladeros, by which a large amount of nitro phosphate, the best of artificial manures, will be secured.

Another plan of beef curing, so as to keep the meat fresh for any length of time, has been brought before the English people by Mr. E. B. Neill, Consul-General in London of the Montevidean Government, as the invention of Mr. Edmund George. I am informed that it is likely to be soon tried in the Argentine Republic.

The increase of wool produce out here is very perceptible in the table supplied to me by Mr. R. B. Newton, Vice-President of the Argentine Rural Society of the Wool Trade of Buenos Ayres, from which I copy here the returns for the seasons of 1852-53 and 1865-66.

Wool Export from Buenos Ayres.

1852-53—Number of Bales 20,514; Arrobas, (25 lb. each, 32 to the bale) 656,448, Number of Sheep at rate of 7 fleeces to each Arroba, 4,597,137; Flocks of Sheep at 1,500 for each flock 3,064.

1865-66—Number of bales 136,400; Arrobas, 25 lb. each, of 32 to the bale 4,364,800; Number of Sheep at rate of 7 fleeces to each arroba 30,553,600; Flocks of Sheep at 1,500 for each flock 20,360.

Mr. Newton adds a note to the effect that should no heavy storms or epidemic come there will be a much larger increase for this year than has been yet, in spite of the considerable slaughter going on for grease and skins.

But it will be observed that this table must be deficient when we find in the Registro Estadistico for 1864, that 729,000 lbs. of washed wool, and 1,340,081 lbs. of unclean wool were exported in that year direct from Rosario to Montevideo, and therefore do not appear in the Buenos Ayres table.

There are four banks in Rosario—[1] the London and River Plate [Limited], [2] the Maua Bank, [3] the Argentine Bank, [4] the Commercial Bank.

During the past year the average exchange on London has been 50d.

The rise in National Bonds continued: cash 25,000, sold at 52, and some 70,000 for 31st inst. at 52½ and 52¾. The tendency upward is not quite so firm. It would seem that some large holder had sold privately; if this rumor is correct prices may yet fall before the 31st inst.

Exchange on London done freely at 48¾. The rate is not likely to advance much more this packet, as though the amount to be drawn is large, yet takers are very numerous. On France the rate does not rise, 5.07 to 5.10 actual transactions.

Sovereigns selling at 4 reals premium.

Government paper offering very freely for discount, but the quantity of this security on the market is so enormous that discounters are beginning to feel nervous.

Continued heavy transactions in produce. Wools looked after, at higher prices; and we would advise our friends to meet the demand and sell; the rise is not likely to be permanent.

Messrs. J. P. Boyd and Co. have placed the Norwegian brig Hans-Gude on the berth for Antwerp, current rates.

SAVINGS BANK.

BANK MAUA AND CO.

101--Cangallo--103.

BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that very important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks, artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, now offer the same facilities in this city, and has opened a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo from Nine a.m. till Three p.m. every day, for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned, Sundays and holidays excepted.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighborhood.

Buenos Ayres, 2nd January, 1867.

P.P. MAUA & Co.,
M. A. DE FREITAS AMORIM.

CONDITIONS.

First—The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty-five Dollars currency or one Silver Dollar upwards.

Second—The interest allowed is six per cent. (6 p.%) per annum, which is liquidated every six months.

Third—The depositors can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

Fourth—Once the money deposited exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars currency, or one thousand dollars silver, the depositor, if he wishe can open an account current, according to the rules established by the Bank.

Fifth—In case the depositor loses his pass book, it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

READ—TRY—JUDGE
Who is there that does not desire to be always exempted from Indigestion—to have a Good Appetite, a Painless Stomach, a Clear Head, a Regular Pulse, a Healthy Complexion? If this meets the eye of any who are not thus blessed, let them try
BAGLEY'S HESPERIDINA.
This delightful Tonic will restore the weakened stomach to a healthy condition; it will bring back the truant appetite, and give permanent vigor to the whole system. The feeble and emaciated, suffering from Dyspepsia or Indigestion in any form, are advised, for the sake of their own bodily and mental health and comfort, to try it.
Ladies of the most delicate constitution testify to its restorative properties. Physicians, disgusted with the adulterated liquors of commerce, describe it as the SAFEST AND MOST RELIABLE
of all stomachics. It does not require weeks of dosing before its virtues are realised. Thousands sit down to meals void of appetite, eating because others eat. The food thus forced into the stomach does positive harm; instead of strengthening the system it engenders a variety of aliments, which end in confirmed dyspepsia. If you want to prevent all this take Bagley's Hesperidina regularly before meals. 14,1m,F6

MORISON'S OINTMENT.

1.—These invaluable medicines being composed only of a vegetable matter, or medical herbs, and warranted, on oath, as containing not one particle of mercurial or mineral substances, all of which are uncongenial to the nature of man), are found to be perfectly harmless to the most tender age, or the weakest frame, under every stage of human suffering; the most pleasant and benign in their operation that were ever offered to the world; and, at the same time, the most certain in searching out the root of any complaint, however deep, and of performing a cure.
